AWS Student Builder Group

September 21st, 2026
Seattle, Washington, USA

To whom it may concern,

This document certifies that the bearer, Carlos Jose Castro Galante at National University of San Juan - Islas Malvinas Campus, is an official Amazon Web Services (AWS) Student Builder Group Leader. As an AWS Student Builder Group Leader, they are empowered to use the group to educate about cloud technologies in their university or academic institution.

AWS Student Builder Groups exist exclusively for educational purposes. The group welcomes members of all disciplines, years, and majors. Group activities are centered around cloud computing technologies, with a focus on Amazon Web Services products for applied learning.
